The gadfly

We are a new, collectively-run student organization at Middlebury College in Middlebury, VT, USA. We are the only radical voice amidst a sea of politically correct, pro-capitalist, "let's work within the system" type people.

I've included our latest, our second, issue of the Gadfly. On page 33 there is an interview with a woman who frequents The Free Hetherington. We thought you might want to check it out/include it in your library.

For now we publish any and all articles through a radical lens in their raw, unedited form. It was put together in a totally DIY manner - Members shared and donated skills, time, money to the printing budget... etc. We hope to expand in the years to come.

I was greatly surprised to hear of the closure of the Hammersmith Roman Centre I, with a number of other people, were invited to a meeting to discuss the future of the Centre. It was a very interesting discussion and it was decided that the Centre should be closed down.
I am sorry to hear that the Centre has been closed down.

According to Cornish legends, St Piran was a Celtic monk who sailed from Ireland on a mission in the 7th century, arriving near Perranporth (Piran's Port). A cross marks the site of his first church, St Piran's Oratory, which is now ruined beneath the sand. Piran became the patron saint of tweal and St Piran's Day is celebrated on March 5th.
